Toast To Harry Caray - HARRY CARAY'S RESTAURANT GROUP
 This year's Worldwide Toast promises to be a Holy Cow! extravaganza with guests encouraged to don their best cow attire, ring their cowbells, and tip their cowboy hats in honor of the head honcho of "Holy Cow!". The famous Shannon Rovers will help kick-off the cow-centric celebration with a Morning Rally (cows love bagpipers, just Google it). Bill Hook, Principal of Chicago High School for Agricultural Sciences, will take on the roll of Cow-ordinator corralling two 800lb Black Angus cows to Harry Caray's Tavern to partake in the morning's festivities. A special cow pen will be created on-site allowing the benevolent bovines to remain on the restaurant's patio for guests to view and take photos with from 4:45am to 6:30pm.

Harry's trademark catchphrase has become synonymous with his larger-than-life personality, which catapulted him beyond a baseball broadcasting legend into mainstream pop culture, and has transcended life itself. To commemorate his legacy, Hollywood special effects artist Kevin Kirkpatrick's supersized, and eerily hyper-realistic, Harry Caray sculpture will be on display.

Keeping with the cow moo-tif, this year also marks the 25th Anniversary of the 1999 Chicago-based art installation Cows on Parade which featured over 300 life-size fiberglass cows around the city. Harry Caray's Restaurant Group maintains the largest collection of original cows from the installation with five in total. Several of the original sculptures from the painted herd will be on display at the restaurant for the event including "Holy Cow!", "Mooving Eli", "End of the Parade", and more.

The Score's Parkins & Spiegel Show will broadcast live from the Toast from 4p- 7pm. Jason Alexander will lead the toast at 5:30pm, joined on stage by Chris Kattan, James Denton, Ryan Dempster, Ron Kittle and more, inviting all to partake in raising a Budweiser to the man, the myth, and the unforgettable catchphrase that continues to unite us all.

Fans who can't join the ceremony at Harry's can listen live on 670AM in the Chicagoland area or watch live online at TheScore.com to join in and raise a glass to Harry from anywhere in the world.
